Hey Lisa,

Just left a message for you. Please call my cell. I probably would have gotten the message the day of, if you had that number. I have lost my paralegal and frankly, I am losing it. I have had two trials in the past month, and with no support to answer the phone and properly file things, and keep my calendar in order, it has been hard. I need to pick any dates you may have for the Green depo.

I appreciate your considerations in this regard

Gordon,

I was not aware of any support issues, however, Michelle Hinkley called your office on the morning of the depo and left you a voicemail regarding the non-appearance and we have not heard from you. Feel free to call me today.

Lisa,

I just received notice of the motion to compel. You may not be aware, but I have had support issues. The notice was filed away in the client's file without calendaring my diary for it. I have not heard from you at all about this matter. We should talk about this. May I call tomorrow?
